Weight Restriction Request – Five Lanes

Reply from Highways Manager that any weight restriction would have implications for farmers and the wider community so should only be considered if evidence shows that the route is being used as a shortcut etc. If the lanes are being used for a short term duration such as construction of housing estate then this should be covered by the planning application, temporary directional signage or possibly a temporary environmental weight order.

Barratts Site Contractor Vehicle Access

Highways Manager will enforce any site access plan previously submitted by the developer.

Update from Cadw

The Old School sale: pre-sale surveys will be undertaken shortly and it is envisaged that the property will be put on the market in early 2014.

The Poor Wood: Cadw have just received information from Welsh Government Legal services department regarding poor wood gathering rights. We are not able to provide further details at present but will be in contact with you shortly.

The West Gate barns are still available for use. Bookings can be made by contacting Julia Hammond (01633 422518) at the Fortress Baths.

The gates and toilets at West Gate barns are open from 10:00am until 4pm daily (1 April 2013 - 31 March 2014). Cadw have no objection to a sign on the toilets in the centre of the village indicating that 'a toilet at Cadw's West Gate barn facility is available for users with a disability and limited mobility' and providing details of the opening hours.

Llanmelin Hill Fort - currently no update available.
